how it happened. Fredericks answered, "She is my wife," and later said that they were married in the east. With regard to the trouble which caused their arrest, the husband, who was arrested by Detective George Wardlaw and Chauffeur Wiggins, stated that he was preparing to leave the city to get work in Pocatello. His wife, he said, was in a highly nervous condition and seemed to think that he was going to "double-cross" her. They had a quarrel and he noticed that she was holding a revolver. In attempting to take it from her, the weapon was discharged and the bullet struck the Burns' woman in the back.

Mrs. Fredericks corroborated the story of her husband, but, according to Detective Charles Pincock, it differed from the one Fredericks told the officers immediately after his arrest. The case was then ordered continued until tomorrow morning in order to take the testimony of the woman that was shot by Mrs. Fredericks.

Fredericks admitted during the hearing that he had been afflicted with the "dope" habit, but that he was now cured.

THREATENING LETTERS SENT TO GOVERNOR WILLIAM SPRY

Threatening letters, similar to those received before Joseph Hillstrom was re-sentenced to death, are being received at the office of Governor Spry. One mailed at Salt Lake and received today threatens death to the governor and destruction to the city, if Hillstrom's sentence is not commuted.

The letter is signed "K. O. D." and is the fourth of like nature received under the same signature in the last six weeks. Another letter, mailed at Kennett, Cal., and signed "J. F. Little," threatens a national revolution unless Hillstrom is released.

Hillstrom has been sentenced to be shot November 14 for the murder of J. G. Morrison here in 1914. Extra police precautions, established a month ago, have been maintained ever since and will continue until after the execution.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS TO MEET SALT LAKE PLAYERS

Conditions at the Ogden high school were reported today as about normal, virtually all of the students having been reinstated in their classes since Tuesday.

The football squad is again training hard for its next game, which will be played with Salt Lake "East Side" high school, on the latter's grounds, a week from Saturday. This game is being anticipated as one of the hardest of the season and Coach Lon Romney is leaving nothing undone that will put the "Tigers" in condition for the hardest battle of their careers.

Principal J. E. Beeson today distributed the preliminary eligibility cards to the football boys and with regard to their scholastic records thus far this year, stated that he expected virtually every member of the squad to be eligible to play in the contest at Salt Lake on October 30.

J. H. MARTIN, ACCUSED OF CAUSING REIGN OF TERROR, AGAIN IN OGDEN

Brought From the State Penitentiary to Face the Charge of Having Held Up and Robbed Mrs. Isabelle Wallin on Oct. 28, 1911—Asks for Change of Venue and Case Goes to Davis County.

When the J. H. Martin case was called for trial this morning in Judge N. J. Harris' division of the district court, the court room was filled with jurors and witnesses. There were about 100 jurors on hand and a number of witnesses were there, but, aside from the jurors and witnesses, there were not more than a half dozen people in the room beyond the court railing.

It is manifest that interest in the case will not be so keen as when Martin was tried 18 months ago for assaulting David Edwards, the detective, on West Seventeenth street. That trial was in progress 30 days and Martin was convicted of assault with a deadly weapon. He was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the state penitentiary and has been incarcerated in that institution since that time.

Martin stated in the sheriff's office, soon after his arrival in the city this morning, that it will be 18 months October 23, since he began serving his sentence.

Reappearance of Martin.

Martin appeared in court without counsel, accompanied by deputy warden of the state penitentiary, Andrew Ure. He appeared to be in robust health and had much more color in his face than when he was on trial last year. He was neatly dressed in a blue serge suit, new shoes, white collar and neatly fastened necktie. He said to his acquaintances that he was feeling fine and that he had been well treated at the penitentiary, having had sufficient work to insure good health. He now wears a moustache, which causes his face to appear somewhat thinner than when he was smooth shaven.

Martin is Alone.

When the case was called, Martin advised the court that his attorney, John Christensen of Salt Lake, had withdrawn and that he could not go to trial without an attorney. He said that he did not care to have the court appoint an Ogden attorney to defend him, as he did not think one could be found who would give him his best service. He based his judgment on the fact that much prejudice prevails against him in Ogden among attorneys as well as laymen.

The court adjourned for 30 minutes to give the prisoner an opportunity to confer with his uncle, J. F. Martin, to learn whether means could be raised with which to employ another attorney. At the expiration of the time, Martin advised the court that his uncle had no money with which to employ counsel, and he again insisted that the court appoint a Salt Lake attorney to defend him.

District Attorney John C. Davis stated that he had been advised by Mr. Martin's uncle that Attorney Christensen had been paid to handle the case, and he suggested that Mr. Christensen be appointed by the court to defend Martin, as it would tend to burden the situation.

In finally settling the question, Judge Howell said that if he thought Martin would not get a fair trial in Ogden, an attorney acting in his defense, he would select a lawyer from the Salt Lake bar, but the court was of the opinion that Mr. Martin was wrong in his conclusions and that he would be given a fair trial and competent service under the defense of an Ogden attorney. The court appointed Attorney D. L. Stine to defend Martin, saying that Mr. Stine would be privileged to select two other attorneys to aid. Recess was taken to give Mr. Stine an opportunity to confer with Martin and decide on additional counsel.

On motion of District Attorney John C. Davis, District Attorney E. O. Leatherwood of Salt Lake was entered on the record as associate counsel. County Attorney Joseph Evans is also associated as counsel in the case. Mr. Leatherwood was in the court room but he took no part in the proceedings up to the time of recess.

History of Crime.

Martin is to be tried under indictment by a grand jury of the crime of robbery, the allegations being that on October 28, 1911, with a revolver in his hand, and in a threatening and intimidating attitude, he robbed Isabelle Wallin, formerly Isabelle Boyie, of a diamond ring of the value of $100. The witness named for the state and written on the back of the indictment was as follows:

Isabelle Wallin, G. W. Culver, Katherine Culver, R. E. Bristol, Vera Boyle, G. W. Leatham, Robert J. Euk, Florence D. Bristol, L. R. Eccles, J. E. Abbott, Douglas A. Swan, Robert Chambers, T. A. DeVine, Thomas B. Burk, A. B. Canfield, W. L. Norton, George B. Wardlaw, Charles Pincock and J. L. Polson.

Albert S. Osborn, an expert on handwriting, of New York, will also be a witness. However, it being certain that there will be a brief continuance in the case, Mr. Osborn has been stopped at Chicago on his way to Ogden.

Case Transferred.

At the reconvening of court at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Judge Howell announced that the trial of the case would be transferred to Davis county, attorneys on both sides agreeing to the change. It was also announced that Judge John G. Willis of Ogden and Attorney W. H. Streeper of Davis county had been appointed to assist in the defense. The trial of the case will be called at Farmington, November 2.

Martin will confer with his attorneys here this afternoon.

TURKS KILL OVER MILLION ARMENIANS

Tiflis, Trans-Caucasia, Oct. 10.—Via Petrograd and London, Oct. 21.—4:5 p. m.—The estimate is made by the Armenian newspaper Mshak that of the 1,200,000 Armenian inhabitants of Turkey before the war there remain not more than 200,000. This residue, the Mshak says, may disappear before the end of the war on account of the Turkish policy of extermination. The figures of the Mshak are based on the estimate of the Armenian patriarch at Constantinople that 850,000 Armenians have been killed or enslaved by the Turks, in addition to which 200,000 Armenians are believed to have fled to Russia.

THOUSAND CHILDREN KILLED BY MATCHES

One thousand children died during the past year as a result of eating the tips of matches. Fire damage, traced to matches as the primary cause, amounted to $30,000,000 in the same period of time. Less than 2 percent of all the fires are caused by electricity.

These statistics, gathered by Mrs. Frank A. Pattison, manager of the Household Experiment station of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs, are used by her in campaigning for safety in the home.

PEGGY AUSTIN AND GIRLS HEAD PANTAGES BILL

Peggy Austin and her supporting company head the new Pantages bill at the Orpheum theater this week, opening this afternoon with the one-act operetta, "Contrary Mary." Miss Austin in the title role is decidedly the hit of the offering and her excellent voice and charming manner win her much merited applause. She has some wonderfully attractive costumes which add not a little to the pleasing effect which she produces. Great credit should be given Miss Vera Eldredge, a Salt Lake young woman, who wrote the operetta.

The scenic effects in the operetta are particularly good and form a splendid sitting for the pretty Salt Lake girls who make up the chorus.

Lalla Selbini, "Venus on Wheels," opens the new bill and she is as good as the house has had for a while. She does her work on the wheel so easily that she does not even soil the pretty pink silk dress she wears nor tear the lace of her skirt. For greater freedom, however, she removes these garments standing on her wheel on the stage, concluding her act in white tights.

Karl Emmy and his pets create a peck of fun. The dogs are exceedingly well trained and seem to do a good bit of the "funny stuff" on their own initiative, especially the little pet who talks back at will to her manager.

Sullivan and Mason in "Breaking the Bank," are really funny and they can both sing. They are not exceptional in any way, but are pleasing entertainers. Carney and Ashley do some good combination work on two grand pianos. Innes and Ryan get plenty of laughs, especially the woman part of the couple, who wears some very stunning gowns.
